Technology Update for the Profession.

James C. Bourke, CPA.CITP.CFF.CGMA, Partner, WithumSmith+Brown, PC, Red Bank, NJ

In this CPE session, Jim Bourke will discuss a number of hottest technology trends and issues in the profession and actively get the attendees involved in the session.

To keep competitive, today's CPA professionals need to be in a position to react instantaneously to client needs and concerns. Technology plays a huge role in meeting client expectations on a timely basis.

Today, it's all about Cloud / Social / Mobile!

If you're not aware of the changes taking place in this space, you'll be left behind. Jim will discuss the impact on our profession of cloud, social and mobile, including how to react to the next generation of professionals entering our space that have grown up knowing only this "way of life."

Jim will discuss a range of technologies from tax, scan and populate, digital signatures, outsourced client accounting to the pro's and con's of Office 365 and the importance of datacenters for the private cloud. He'll review the biggest hacks of the past few months and share some cybertips to help make your practice and your clients' a little "more" secure.

James C. Bourke

Bankruptcy (Insolvency) Fraud

Sean Raquet, CPA, CFE, Partner, Insolvency and Litigation Services, Bederson, LLP

Sean is a partner with Bederson LLP, managing team members in the Insolvency and Litigations Services group, which specializes in Bankruptcy, Insolvency, Forensic Accounting and Litigation Services. His bankruptcy experience includes providing financial and related advisory services to Chapter 11 and Chapter 7 Trustees, Unsecured Creditors Committees and Debtors-in-Possession including fraud investigations leading to recovery of assets. His forensic investigation experience includes reviewing and analyzing the Arena Lease Agreement by and between the Housing Authority of the City of Newark and Devils Arena Entertainment LLC and the Redevelopment Agreement by and between the Housing Authority and Devils Renaissance Development LLC. While involved in other forensic investigations, he has worked closely with the Internal Revenue Service Criminal Investigation Division, the Postal Inspector's Office and the Office of the United States District Attorney. His litigation services include accounting malpractice defense, matrimonial and shareholder disputes as well as assisting fiscal agents and receivers in monitoring and overseeing various entities.

Fraud Prevention and Detection Methods for Small Businesses

Sergeant Mark W. Malinowski, MS, CFE, CAMS

Mark Malinowski has over 16 years working in both the banking industry and as a law enforcement professional conducting financial crimes investigation, detecting fraudulent activity within public and private organizations and designing fraud prevention programs for various business and government agencies.

Mark Malinowski is currently a Detective Sergeant with the Ocean County Prosecutor's Office, supervising the Economic Crimes Unit. This unit investigates financial crimes, internal affairs, corruption and organized crime activity along with supplying financial crimes investigation support to both the homicide and narcotics units. He was deputized as a US Marshal/IRS Special Agent from 2007-2009, while investigating an international gambling and money laundering operation. He was a member of the Ocean County Regional SWAT team from 2009-2011.

Mark Malinowski has conducted and supervised various types of financial investigations ranging from theft by deception, money laundering, asset forfeiture, organized crime enterprises (street gangs and traditional), racketeering, tax offenses, mortgage fraud, insurance fraud, Ponzi schemes, embezzlements, and the tracing of financial funding for domestic and international narcotics trafficking throughout the State of New Jersey and on a global scale.

These financial investigations have provided him with the expertise to locate and secure the documentation needed to perform the financial data analysis of financial institution accounts and corporate financial statements, which are essential for court testimony. He has testified in New Jersey Superior Court as the lead detective for several complex white-collar crimes investigations. These career experiences have provided him with a vast knowledge of how financial crimes are perpetrated along with the ability to analyze financial data to prevent, detect, investigate and prosecute the various levels of worldwide financial fraudulent activity that impact all types of businesses.

He has earned a Master of Science degree in Financial Fraud and Forensics from Carlow University and a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Studies with a concentration in Marketing from Stockton University. He holds the professional certifications as a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) and Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialist (CAMS). In addition, he has completed all the courses and professional experience requirements to sit for the Certified Public Accountants exam in the State of New Jersey.

In addition to the above information, Mark Malinowski is a certified State of NJ police instructor who teaches at the Ocean County Police Academy training recruits in the areas of fraudulent documents, financial investigations, internal affairs, money laundering, organized crime, and the financial exploitation against senior citizens.

In 2013, Mark Malinowski established Framework Financial, LLC, which specializes in the development of anti-fraud educational seminars and fraud risk assessments for all types of businesses and public sector agencies. This led him to be the instructor and designer of the Certificate in Financial Crimes Investigations program held at Stockton University's Center for Public Safety & Security. He has presented as a subject matter expert for several private companies and is currently an adjunct instructor at several colleges throughout the country on the topics of financial crimes, money laundering investigations and locating hidden assets.

KY3P (Know Your Third Party)

Glenn Dinetz, New Jersey Licensed Private Detective.

Glenn Dinetz is the Managing Director of Greystone Intelligence. He has a unique background that combines law enforcement experience as a Special Investigator with the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice with an international business career spanning technology, management consulting and general business management.

Mr. Dinetz has held prior positions including:

- Managing Director and Head of Global Compliance Solutions at Dun & Bradstreet.
- Executive roles at public companies specializing in high-risk operations, troubled divisions and turnaround situations.
- Partner in KPMG's Strategic Services Consulting Practice

Mr. Dinetz has an MBA from the Rutgers University School of Management (NJ), a BA from Marietta College (OH) and a post-graduate certificate in eCommerce and Corporate Survival from M.I.T. (MA). His professional certifications include CFE (Certified Fraud Examiner) and CGEIT (Certified in the Governance of Enterprise IT) from ISACA (Information Systems Audit and Control Association)

He is a frequent writer, speaker and instructor on Risk, Governance Compliance and Fraud issues and most recently developed Compliance University at Dun & Bradstreet as well as Investigator's Training Day for the NULPIA.

Case Study – The Madoff Case

Andrew J. Frisch, White Collar Defense Attorney, The Law Offices of Andrew J. Frisch, New York, NY

Andrew J. Frisch, who represents white collar defendants in criminal and SEC enforcement cases, will discuss the challenges of defending charges of accounting fraud against former employees of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC and others in highly-publicized cases. Mr. Frisch's clients include Madoff's Director of Operations and the Chief Financial Officer of Dewey & LeBoeuf, LLC, who was recently tried on 106 criminal counts, all resolved with acquittals, dismissals or deadlocks.

Preparing Evidence for the Prosecution

Michael D. Schulstad, CPA, CFF, Former FBI Special Agent

Michael has over 28 years of professional law enforcement experience performing forensic, examinations and analysis in support of a variety of white collar crime and fraud investigations. His investigative expertise includes Corporate, contract, health care, bank, business, bankruptcy, government and procurement fraud, as well as bank failure, money laundering and asset forfeiture. Michael has also investigated and supervised counterterrorism and counterintelligence investigations.

Michael Kupka, CPA, CFE, WeiserMazars LLP, New York, NY

Before joining WeiserMazars, Michael spent more than 25 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) rising to the position of Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) of the Newark Division. He supervised a variety of investigative programs including management of crisis situations involving multiple agencies while also managing million dollar financial budgets for programs and operations. Michael was the ASAC of the Intelligence Program, where he led the Newark Division through the establishment of new FBI Foreign and Domestic Intelligence Collection requirements and, previously, ASAC of the Newark Division's busiest Criminal Branch program.

More recently, Michael was the Deputy Assistant Inspector General to the Special Inspector General for Afghanistan Reconstruction. He was stationed in Afghanistan, where he launched compliance programs and investigative operations targeting money laundering, fraud and corruption which had become endemic to the Afghan reconstruction effort. Michael was also an investigator with USAID-OIG in Afghanistan focusing on Contract and Procurement Fraud resulting in the loss of millions of U.S. taxpayer dollars.

Michael also worked for the Special Inspector General for the Troubled Asset Relief Program where he handled complex bank fraud and mortgage loan modification frauds perpetrated by those individuals abusing the bailout program aimed at stabilizing the US economy.
